

American Heritage Center 2024 Travel Grants

The American Heritage Center at the University of Wyoming offers annual travel grants to be used by scholars. The grants are for up to $750 each and provide support for travel, food and lodging to carry out research using AHC collections, which the subject areas of include Wyoming and the Rocky Mountain West and a select number of national topics: environment and conservation, mining and petroleum industries, air and rail transportation, popular entertainment (particularly radio, television, film, and popular music), journalism, U.S. military history. The Toppan Rare Book Library consists of more than 50,000 items, majority of which are printed books, although there are newspapers, magazines, broadsides, illuminated manuscripts, and other materials. Collecting subjects include the American West, British and American Literature, exploration and travel, religion, hunting and fishing, historic children's books, and examples of the book arts.

Note: Funds must be spent within fifteen months following notification of the award.
